PROFESSIONAL FLYING CAREERS

Do you want to become a professional pilot?

Well, you'd better know the road to get there; all the questions you need to ask, and all the right answers you will need to know.

First, you will need to have a goal, and a plan on how to get there.

- ▶ Airline
- ▶ Corporate
- ▶ Military
- ▶ Instructing

All of these require professional pilots.

What ratings will you need? What is the best way to get them? How long should it take? How much will it cost?

There are many avenues you can take. You need to know which would be the best for you, and you need someone who knows and will represent your best interest, not any school's interest.

Get all the facts from an expert who has been there, and can guide you through the process.

There is a lot you will need to know to get an airline flying position, it's quite an involved process, my guide will move you through this process, with the knowledge that you are avoiding the mistakes that your competition will make.

Corporate Flying is a very tight, closed fraternity; it is not easy to get a flying position. Learn what you will have to do to open this fraternity to you.

Military Careers require another kind of process, my guide will open your eyes to all the advantages and disadvantages of this career. You will benefit from an expert, former, military pilot, on how to put yourself in the best position to be selected for military flight training. This could cost you nothing. That's right, Uncle Sam will pick up the tab.

So, before you inquire to any school, college, university, or military recruiter, do the smart thing. For the best $29.99 you will ever invest, download my guide on professional flying careers, you will not regret it, it will save you time and money.

Now, do the right thing; get the "right stuff".
